Alice In Wonderland Synopsis:

Alice and her sisters begin their day at a garden party with all their friends. As her sisters gossip with the other girls, Alice begins to daydream. Much to her surprise, she sees a White Rabbit with a stopwatch hop by. She follows the rabbit, only to end up falling down a rabbit hole into another world. She finds herself in a room surrounded by doors of different sizes and shapes. She sees a small cake and eats it, only to shrink in size. She then drinks a potion she finds, and grows to be huge! She is so upset that she begins to cry. As she cries, she returns to normal size, but the room is filled with her tears, forming an ocean. As Alice swims away, a group of animals crawls out of the water and decide to hold a race to dry off. Alice then begins her journey through Wonderland, along the way meeting The Caterpillar, The Cheshire Cat, The Mad Hatter, siblings Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum, and the intimidating Queen of Hearts who loves to behead her subjects. The Queen of Hearts invites Alice to play croquet, but is infuriated when Alice plays much better than anyone else. The Queen holds a trial to determine if Alice should lose her head. When Alice is indeed convicted, the room begins to spin as Alice begins to panic. She finds herself falling back up the rabbit hole, only to wake up and realize she had fallen asleep at the garden party and it had all been a dream. Or was it?
